

Use of Secondary Containers

Pharmaceutical compounds removed from their primary container and placed in a secondary container should have all relevant markings (drug name, expiration date, date mixed, etc.) on the secondary container. In the case of drug cocktails containing a controlled substance, the secondary container should also be stored under DEA approved conditions.